

STUDENTS LEARNING ABOUT SPEECH & HEARING

/slæʃ/ Summer Program

/slæʃ/ is a free summer program for high school students from under-represented backgrounds to learn more about the speech-language pathology and audiology professions.

Student Participants will:

- Learn about speech-language pathology and audiology professions
- Network with speech-language pathologists and audiologists across a range of work settings
- Connect with current undergraduate and graduate students from local universities
- Observe patient care
- Engage in hands-on activities such as:
  - Taste-testing thickened liquids
  - Transcribing sounds using the International Phonetic Alphabet
  - Conducting a hearing screening
  - Using augmentative and alternative communication devices
  - Using ultrasound to visualize tongue shapes for speech sounds
  - Exploring therapeutic equipment
  - and much more!
- Participate in a social media competition
- Participate in focus groups to share feedback about the program and interest in the professions

Program Perks Provided for Students:

- Small gift cards provided upon completion of each session as compensation for time and attendance in the program
- Promotional giveaways
- A certificate of completion
- Light breakfast and lunch
- Transportation assistance if needed
